Nehru Reports Ike Talks to Contribute to Peace

Predicts U.S., India to 'Get Along Well'

Formal Discussion
Ended Today With Two-Hour Session

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru concluded his formal talks with President Eisenhower today with a prediction that their meeting will make a definite contribution to world peace.

Nehru told newsmen as he left the White House after talking with the President for one hour and 40 minutes.

"I think India and America will get along very well in the future in international affairs."

THE INDIAN Prime Minister will be host to Mr. Eisenhower at a state dinner tonight but his visit to the White House today was the last man to man secret talk with the President on his schedule.

Nehru also told a news conference that he believes "the people in the Soviet Union are not very happy about events in Hungary, to put it mildly."

NEHRU SAID he had not delivered to Mr. Eisenhower any formal message from Red China's Premier Chou En-lai, with whom he met before coming to Washington.

But he said he conveyed to Mr. Eisenhower Chou's viewpoint on Asia, and explained Red China's thinking about some Far East problems.

Asked to give details of his report, Nehru said Chou had made "certain complaints."

He said Chou's position is that Red China has "gone several steps forward" while there have been no comparable move to improve relations by the United States.

Santa Claus To Arrive in Village Dec. 22

Santa Claus is coming to Town!

On Saturday, all the children in Palm Springs are invited to watch Santa's arrival in the Village, aboard a stage coach and escorted by motorcycle officers.

He will travel slowly from El Mirador Hotel, down Palm Canyon Drive to DeMuth Park, where the Junior Chamber of Commerce will have a special candy-filled Christmas stocking ready for all the kids.

And Santa, expecting a huge crowd, is bringing along three elves, who will assist him. Santa Claus and his helpers will be in the park at 11:30 a.m.

The Jaycees are placing a stage next to the Community Christmas Tree in the park, and roped off walkways will lead to Santa.

Chairman of the Jaycee committee is Terry Roach, who is assisted by Jim Creighton and Jim Schilling.

Nixon Lands In Austria, Plans Tour

Plane Landing
Delayed Hours
by Thick Fog

VIENNA, (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived in Austria tonight to take a first hand look at the problems involved in the great mass refugee flight from Hungary.

As Nixon's special plane from Washington landed at Vienna's Schwechat Airport, almost the first persons he saw were 72 Hungarian refugees from Communist rule waiting to take off for a new life in America.

THEY WERE the latest group of more than 11,000 Hungarians already in or en route to the United States under President Eisenhower's plan to admit a total of 21,500 victims of Communist terror.

The vice president and his party finally landed here after a thick fog over Central Europe had caused hours of delay.

THE VICE PRESIDENT will tour several refugee centers and confer with officials on the scene in an effort to determine how the United States can help clear up the refugee problem.

President Eisenhower asked Nixon to determine how American doors can be opened for even more refugees and how the Austrian government can be helped in taking care of the more than 60,000 persons still jammed into makeshift camps in this overburdened country.

Two Not Guilty Verdicts Given In 'Bookie' Cases

Superior Court Judge Hilton McCabe this morning returned a verdict of not guilty on all counts, in the bookmaking trials of George "The Greek" Zouganis of Cathedral City and Mrs. Zella G. Hensley of Palm Springs.

The trial, without a jury, was completed in one day of testimony before Judge McCabe in India yesterday, and attorneys presented witnesses and entered the transcript of testimony given at the preliminary trial.

Attorney Russell Parsons, who gained fame when he won the controversial "illegal search and seizure" decision from the California Supreme Court, in the bookmaking trial of John Cahan, ended his case yesterday with two attacks, one on the use of tape recordings in the court and the other on the integrity of a undercover agent, San Bernardino police officer Leonard Altar.

Commissioners said it would take approximately eight months to one year for a complete, detailed study of the area in order to insure a comprehensive plan.

Commissioners explained, however, that the move does not limit granting of variances during the interim period.

A similar program is underway in India.

With hundreds of Marines still lacking invitations, the committee today renewed its request and asked that all parties able to accommodate Marine guests call the El Mirador Hotel switchboard, 2044, or Miss Beverly Smedley, 9163.

Hotels Start Teen-Age Action, Metzendorf Chairman

Recognizing the growing teenage problem in connection with Village hotel operation, especially during the Easter season, Harry Paisley, president of the Palm Springs Hotel and Apartment Association today announced the formation of a committee to study the problem, with Dewey Metzendorf of Hotel the Oasis as chairman.

Metzendorf, besides his Oasis connections here, is vice president of Western Hotels, Inc.

THE COMMITTEE is designed to coordinate city-wide a positive program to remedy the situation, with all civic organizations to be contacted for support.

Each year, at Easter vacation time, thousands of students take off for resort towns causing added police problems.

Villagers to Share Christmas Spirit With 50 Marines

Palm Springs residents will welcome 50 Marines from the Twenty-ninth Marine Base to share festive family boards on Christmas Day.

Invitations for Christmas dinner were extended the Marines in response to urging of a committee organized to bring some of the 400 young men into the resort as guests of residents and hotel owners.

A similar program is underway in India.

With hundreds of Marines still lacking invitations, the committee today renewed its request and asked that all parties able to accommodate Marine guests call the El Mirador Hotel switchboard, 2044, or Miss Beverly Smedley, 9163.

Ireland Threatens New 'Iron Curtain'

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, (AP) — Northern Ireland threatened today to set up an "Iron Curtain" along its border with the Irish Republic to halt anti-British demonstrations by the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

Home Affairs Minister W. B. Topping told the Northern Ireland Parliament the government is "actively considering" a permanent curfew in strategic border areas, permanent road blockades and "other measures."

THE WEATHER

Desert area forecast: Variable high cloudiness with mostly sunny days today and Thursday but considerable cloudiness at times southern valleys. Little temperature change with highs today 60-70 upper valleys, 70-80 lower valleys. Yesterday's high was 77; and low was 46.

DICK ADDISON, Police Lab Technician in Palm Springs, yesterday was credited with successfully bringing out the ground-off license number of a hubcap, which led to the conviction of a Riverside youth on charges of "hubnapping." The first time on record that this process has been used for something of this type, Chief of Police August G. Kettmann said that it was a major step forward in the detection of "hubnappers" and their ultimate conviction.

Fire Razes $60,000 Residence

Flames shooting high enough to be visible for 20 miles yesterday destroyed the $60,000 Tamarisk Club area home of real estate man Larry Norton.

No one was injured in the two-hour blaze that swept almost unchecked through the five-bedroom dwelling before three companies of volunteer firemen, pumping water from the Norton swimming pool, doused the flames.

County Fireman Bill Lord, commanding three volunteer units from Indio, Palm Desert and Cathedral City, said the fire was probably started by faulty wiring in the kitchen.

Norton, whose wife and daughter were in Los Angeles at the time of the fire, said he was returning from Palm Springs when he saw flames flaring through the kitchen windows. The house is located at 70-145 Wonder Palms Drive, across from Tamarisk County Club.

The entire stucco building was blazing before Norton could save any personal belongings, although he was later able to salvage a few articles of clothing from a still-smoldering rear bedroom.

Norton, who said he was fully insured, plans to stay in Los Angeles until he can rebuild his home.

Herb Ecclestone Named President Of County CofC

Herb Ecclestone, Desert Hot Springs investment executive, was yesterday unanimously elected president of the Riverside County Associated Chambers of Commerce at the association's monthly meeting here.

Named to serve with Ecclestone were Emil Wohlgenuth, of Beaumont; first vice president; Lois Abernathy, of Idyllwild, second vice president; Howard Barrett, of Riverside; secretary; and Walter Lyell, Hemet, treasurer. The new officers will take over at the January meeting.

Jewish Men's Club to Meet

Men's Club of the Jewish Community Center, 332 West Alejo Road, will hold its regular meeting at 8:15 p.m., tonight, Wednesday, at the Center, President Henry Birns announced.

Following the business session, two color films will be shown.

Miller Named Hotel Officer

John Miller, of Monte Vista Hotel, this week was elected vice president of the Palm Springs Hotel and Apartment Association to succeed James Geggie, who resigned recently.

Miller also is chairman of the Palm Springs city planning commission.

Police Lab Technician Aids In Conviction of 'Hubnapper'

Technician Richard Addison, Palm Springs Police crime lab technician last night with the use of a powerful acid raised a ground off license number on a hubcap, and was directly responsible for the conviction of a "hubnapper."

Twenty-one-year-old Gilbert V. Raya of Riverside was arrested after being spotted by off-duty police officer Richard Harries driving an old car with big Oldsmobile hubcaps on the wheels. Harries called the station and officer Darwin Mullins stopped the youth at the corner of Ramon Road and Indian Avenue.

On a normal shakedown of the car, Mullins noticed that a spot next to the valve stem hole on the hubcaps had been ground off, and on questioning the subject, was told that he had purchased the "caps" from a Riverside man for $15. Mullins took the suspect into custody.

AT THE STATION, Dick Addison went to work on the ground off spots on the hubcaps, and brought out the license number of an automobile.

Using the same theory as the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other metropolitan police labs do, Addison worked on the "caps" with various kinds of acid, and in a matter of minutes, the ground off numerals began to re-appear.

CHIEF OF POLICE August G. Kettmann explained the marking process by saying that put onto any metal object, the metal underneath the punched area is destroyed. When acid is put on the area, it eats away at the unharmed area around the numerals or writing and raises the figures. Although a high-power marking acid was used to make sure the numerals were read correctly, they could easily be made out without it.

Kettmann today voiced a commendation to the officers who played a part in the apprehension of the hubnapper.

ADDISON HAS BEEN schooled in police lab techniques, and for several years taught in private schools as well as at the University of California.

Raya, faced with the evidence of the re-appearing numerals, entered a plea of guilty in Palm Springs Judicial District Court and was sentenced to 180 days, suspended, and one year's probation.

Saund Seeks Appointment To House Interior Committee

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Congressmen-elect Dalip S. Saund (D-Calif.), the first native of India to be elected to Congress, said today he would like to be assigned to the House Interior Committee.

Saund said the Interior Committee would be a strategic place for looking after his first interest of making sure his district continued to receive a "fair share" of water from the Colorado River.

A BILL approved by the committee and enacted by Congress last session authorized the Upper Colorado Reclamation Project. Saund said the project, or at least expansion of it, jeopardized irrigation water supplies for the Imperial Valley and other arid lands in his district.

The presence of three other Californians on the committee, including Rep. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), the chairman, lessens his chances of getting the assignment, Saund conceded. His second choice, he said, would be the Agriculture Committee.

HE EMPHASIZED he is interested in getting the act setting up the Soil Bank Plan amended to allow payments for land in his district not retired from crop production. The irrigated land, he said, deteriorates through seepage and weed growth if not planted.

New Telephone Hearing Dates Set for Jan. 3-4

Complaints about Palm Springs area telephone service will be aired at public hearings Jan. 3-4, the state Public Utilities Commission announced today.

PUC staff members are scheduled to report on telephone service in the Desert Hot Springs and Palm Springs-Coachella exchange areas.

The session will be conducted at Palm Springs City Hall and subscribers will be given a chance to voice complaints.

The Springs to Make Formal Debut Friday

Hundreds of Palm Springs first-nights will be introduced to the resort area's newest restaurant, The Springs, Friday evening.

Doors at the $600,000 Cameron Center restaurant open at 5 p.m. Friday for a reservation-only guest list.

All five dining areas of The Springs, including the coffee shop and patio, will be opened to the general public Saturday.

Completed almost exactly one year after its ground-breaking, The Springs is the first segment of a planned $5 million hotel and shopping center financed by George E. Cameron Jr.

CONSTRUCTED in a painstaking, piece-by-piece operation, The Springs located at South Palm Canyon Drive and Mesquite Avenue represents what is probably the desert area's most unique example of extemporaneous architecture, according to Architect Bill Cody.

"We had no real planning outside of the half-finished foundation plans," Cody explained. "The building just seemed to grow and expand as we went along."

Cody, cooperating with construction superintendent Al Johnson, carefully guided every step of construction in his plan to make The Springs "look like it grew from the desert."

THE SPRAWLING, beam-studded building covers 15,000 square feet of floor space. Rocks quarried from the Morongo area line the outer walls while laminated beams stretching 40-feet in length form angular arches to the ground. A gold sprayed cantilever-type, spar reaches across the length of the roof to give the building sweeping, low-slung lines.

Landscaping, planned by Ray Barnett, in conjunction with Cody, point up the architect's free-swinging interpretation of contemporary western design.

Inside, The Springs boasts three dining rooms and a coffee shop. The main dining room is styled in a rustic western flavor, with a rinky fireplace highlighted by imbedded turquoise and hand-woven Puerto Rican wool carpeting by Maurice Martine.

Martine's coffee shop is western modern with leather backed booths and individual seats marking off a sweeping, stainless-steel-backed counter.

THE "CONVERTIBLE" patio, capable of seating 150 diners in addition to the 300 inside, moves out from a fountain waterfall and features a roll-top canvas roof, retractable for inclement weather. Radiant heating imbedded in the concrete flooring is provided for cooler evenings.

Operated by veteran restaurateur Allan Dale who leased the building from Cameron and his project manager, Russell Wade, The Springs features its own coffee shop bakery which, Dale said, will cater to outside functions as well as to desert-loving guests.

Dale placed Chief Emmanuel Begin, formerly of the Hilton Hotel, in charge of the stainless steel kitchen. Maitre d' hotel is Felix Brankhi, formerly of the Los Angeles Biltmore and Tappan Hill, in Terrytown, N.Y.

New Hours Set For Hotel Group's Referral Service

Palm Springs Hotel and Apartment Association sponsored Referral Service, operated in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce, has established new hours, Stanley Doyle and Adele Colgan, co-chairmen, announced today.

The offices in the Chamber building at 190 West Amado Road, will remain open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. on weekdays, and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturdays.

The service is free to all hotels in Palm Springs, with no commission or costs to either the hotel or customer. No other service of this type is offered locally, and the office does not work in connection with reservation services, either locally or out of town.

Hotels are asked to keep in close contact with the Referral Office by calling 9151 or 9152, the same numbers prospective visitors may call for information concerning vacancies available.

Harry Paisley is president of the Hotel Association.

Officers Named By Desert Drama Workshop Group

Officers for the administration of the Desert Drama Workshop were elected at a meeting at the Jewish Community Center, 332 West Alejo Road, with Erwin Halpern named chairman.

Marcia Halpern, is corresponding secretary; Vonnice Brown, recording secretary; Dorothy Hart, Hannah Holtzman, Ruth Singer, Izadore Singer and Hal Joseph, members of the board of directors.

This group will function as a liaison between the production staff and the organization.

Rehearsals are in full schedule for the comedy, "My Sister Ellen" which will be presented Feb. 4, 5, 6 and 7 at the Center. The ticket sale will begin the week of Dec. 24, tickets being available at the Center office and from members. Service clubs will be given special rates for blocs of tickets.

There will be a complete membership meeting of the Workshop after rehearsal on Thursday, Dec. 20, at 9:30 p.m.

Further information may be had by calling 5262.

FLAMES VISIBLE FOR twenty miles yesterday destroyed the $60,000 Tamarisk Club area home of real estate man Larry Norton. Volunteer firemen from three desert communities battled the blaze for two hours, pumping water from Norton's swimming pool when their own tanks went dry. The five bedroom house was completely gutted but Norton, who was in Palm Springs at the time the fire started in the kitchen, managed to enter the smoking wreckage and salvage a few belongings. At right, Norton, soot-stained from the battle, wearily carries away a few of the possessions he was able to save. See Story Page 1.

Kettmann Endorses State Code of Ethics for Officers

Chief of Police August G. Kettmann announced today that The Peace Officers' Association of the State of California has adopted a Law Enforcement Code of Ethics, setting forth desirable objectives and ideals for men and women in the law enforcement field, and strongly endorsed the action of the Association, of which he is a member.

The Code opens with the pledge that "As a Law Enforcement Officer, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation, and the peaceful against violence or disorder and to respect the Constitutional rights of all men to liberty, equality and justice."

Formulation and acceptance of the Code is an initial phase of a California program to professionalize law enforcement. Preliminary work in drafting it was done by the Peace Officers' Research Association of California, which has also adopted it.

The state peace officers' is presenting the Code to several national organizations of law enforcement officers with the recommendation that it be approved by their groups.

In a letter received today by Chief Kettmann, Chief of Police A. E. Jansen of San Diego, president of the Peace Officers' Association of the State of California, stated: "To my knowledge there is no law enforcement code of ethics in actual use by the combined law enforcement agencies of any state. In adopting this laudable expression of our objectives and ideals, California law enforcement officers are again setting a noteworthy example for their contemporaries throughout the nation."

Chief Kettmann, who serves on the state committee designed to professionalize law enforcement, said the Code of Ethics represents "a major step towards the realization of a professional enforcement system" embodying standards on a plane equal to that of medical and legal professions.

Satchmo Toots at London Concert, Conductor Leaves

LONDON (AP) — Louis Satchmo Armstrong blew the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra and its angry conductor off the stage Tuesday night at a Hungarian relief concert that turned into a "shambles."

A packed audience of highbrows and jazz fans—the mink and blue jeans sets—created such an uproar that Conductor Norman Del Mar gave up on any attempt to complete the classical part of the program. He stalked off.

THE UPROAR WAS so great Del Mar never returned to the podium and Satchmo was unable to deliver an encore. Even London's Lord Mayor, Sir Cullum Welch was unable to make a speech of thanks.

The trouble started when Del Mar underestimated Satchmo's great lung power. Del Mar, protégé of Sir Thomas Beecham and most dignified British conductor, had led the Philharmonic through Brahms' "Tragic Overture" and Stravinsky's "Firebird Suite" when Satchmo strode upon the stage with his magic trumpet in hand.

DEL MAR GAVE the beat and his 80 piece orchestra started playing "St. Louis Blues."

From then on, Del Mar should have stayed at home.

Satchmo appeared wearing a midnight blue set of satin tails and his mouth was wide open. After each number the crew-cut college crowd and the rock-n-rollers roared their approval and soon the mink-and-tails set joined in and soon the joint was jumping.

"I TERMINATED the concert because it had ceased to be a concert and had become a shambles," Del Mar said.

Satchmo was sympathetic. "The things the professor should have done was to stop the cats' shoutin' and play 'God Save The Queen' or something."

Along some roads in the Canadian province of Quebec there are signs ordering motorists to blow their horns. In contrast, New York City has a new statute forbidding unnecessary horn blowing.

Knight Names S. T. Bucciarelli As New Judge

Governor Goodwin J. Knight yesterday appointed Riverside Attorney S. Thomas Bucciarelli, as judge of the Superior Court in Riverside County.

Bucciarelli's appointment fills the vacancy created by the death of Judge O. K. Morton, who died late last week.

Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson last Saturday had appointed Palm Springs Judicial District Judge Eugene Thorieu to an interim term. Bucciarelli, who resides at 6515 Mitchell Street, Arlington, is a member of the State Athletic Commission. He was born in Italy in 1908 and is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

The new appointee was admitted to the Pennsylvania bar in 1936 and came to California in 1948. He has served as secretary of the Riverside County Bar Association and is a member of the Riverside Chamber of Commerce, the B.P.O. Elks, and the Lions Club.

State Cash Registers Ring At Record Rate, to Continue

A cacophony of jingling cash registers is ringing out the most profitable year in California history. Walter J. Braunschweiger, Bank of America vice president, said here today.

The happy spending of more than 3½ million visitors dumped a whopping $600,000,000 into mercantile resort tills, during the year Braunschweiger reported.

Speaking at the Riverside County Associated Chambers of Commerce meeting in the Chi Chi, the Los Angeles bank executive prophesied a bigger tourist future, but he cautioned resort men to live up to the expectations of pleasure seeking families.

"California is doing the biggest tourist business in the world," he declared but added that it would not keep up if resort planners ignored the problem of entertainment and recreation.

"Families coming to spend a week are disappointed if they find only enough entertainment to last a day," he said. "You've got to keep them happy because it's the people who stay two or three weeks who spend most of the tourist money."

Braunschweiger pointed out that at least one out of 10 tourists return to California for permanent settlement. This means an influx of 1,000 new Californians a day.

Use of water for all purposes in the U.S. doubled twice in the last 50 years and is expected to double again in the next 25 years.

Expelled UP Reporter Tells Of Refugee Life

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Russell Jones of the United Press, who covered the Hungarian revolt until he was expelled, is back in the United States. This is his first dispatch since his return.)

By RUSSELL JONES
United Press Staff Correspondent
I flew back to the United States last Friday. My wife and I were on a plane with 50 refugees from Hungary.

One of them was a nine-year-old boy named Georgie Meszaro. He is a lad with a grin, big ears, tousled hair, eyelashes long enough for a girl. But he is like no nine year old I ever met.

Georgie just can't stop talking about the things he saw in a revolution that took place right under his living room window. He was pulled out of his bedroom by freedom fighters who set up a machine gun there.

HE SAW MEN killed yards away. He saw bodies lying in the streets. He rode out of Budapest in a truck with a corpse alongside him. He has come here with his father, his mother, his grandmother and his aunt.

People have asked me all sorts of questions since I got here. I'll tell you what some of my answers were. First I'd like to answer one which applies very definitely to Georgie Meszaro.

Q. WON'T MANY of the Hungarian refugees have a most difficult time making a new life in the United States?

A. Very definitely. The worst thing we could do would be to let these people get lost here and want to go home again. It is one thing to feed them, to give them clothing and fly them to America. It is another to see that they overcome the tremendous barrier of not speaking English, to see that the man of the family gets a decent job, to insure that they have a place to live and feel at home in the community.

IT'S WATERMELON WEATHER for Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brandes, who welcomed eight reluctant, and slightly out-of-season watermelons, to the garden of their home at 32132 Rancho Vista Drive. The melons, planted by Brandes last March, lazily lingered through the summer months when they should have been hanging on the vine. Nurserymen say the melons may have delayed by lack of nutrition in the sandy soil. (Desert Sun Photo)

Fair Contracts Are Approved

Five fair contracts were approved by the County Board of Supervisors this week at the request of Fair Manager Bob Fullenwider, as follows:

Dorothy Gavin of Indio, to be production director for the Arabian Nights Pageant at the county fair and date festival in Indio in February.

Mrs. S. D. Overholzer of Thermal, to supervise the handicrafts department.

Bob Simon of Burbank, to be ringmaster and steward at the horse show, an annual highlight of the fair at Indio.

Joshua Tree Acquisition Approved by Desert Council

The Desert Protective Council is heartily in accord with action being taken by the Federal Government to acquire tax deeded lands within the boundaries of Joshua Tree National Monument for the purpose of consolidating lands within the Monument, its president, Randall Henderson of Palm Desert advised the county supervisors this week.

The supervisors have protested proposed acquisition of 10,000 acres of tax deeded lands within the Monument by the Federal Government. Said Henderson: "The location of privately owned lands within boundaries of any national park or monument always presents a serious problem to administration of such park or monument and acts as a constant threat to integrity and proper safeguarding of the national interest in such an area."

"Just file it," said Supervisor George Berkey, and filed it was.

County Accepts Pine Cove Road

Acting on recommendation by the county planning commission and Road Commissioner A. C. Keith, this week, the board of supervisors voted to accept Nestva Trail for a distance of 340 feet between Meadow Trail and Laurel Trail at Pine Cove in the San Jacinto mountains, into the county road system to be improved to county subdivision standards without cost to the county.

"I know of no way in which the county could accept this road without accepting full responsibility for its use and safety," said Keith.

Mission Creek Section Line Road Request Turned Down

Roy Rosen of New Mexico has asked county supervisors that section and quarter-section lines be dedicated by the county for roads to a 175-acre tract of land he owns near Mission Creek west of the highway to Morongo Valley. He said he understands that the county dedicated public roads along all sections and quarter-sections in another area.

Road Commissioner A. C. Keith told the board this week that the previous road dedication referred to by Rosen must be that in which 1901 the board of supervisors declared all roads in the agricultural section of Coachella Valley on section lines to be county roads and established the present existing presidential naming and numbering system. Keith said that an investigation of the assessor's records indicates that most of the property in the Mission Creek area has passed into private ownership and any rights of way secured by the county now would have to be either by dedication or deed. He said there is insufficient development in the area to justify the expenditure of public road funds and suggested that it would appear proper for Rosen to negotiate with his neighbors for access to his property. The supervisors ordered Keith's report filed and a copy of it to be sent Rosen.

SANTA CLAUS waves goodbye to Sonny Sharron of Palm Springs, after she gave "Saint Nick" a long list of Christmas "wants." Hundreds of children formed a long line at Thrifty Drug Store, Saturday to talk with Santa Claus and receive a gift. Pat Mutascio of 677 Mountain View Drive, a close friend of Santa's, was personally in charge of seeing that Santa was present at the store. (Desert Sun Photo)

NPS Scouters To Hold Party For Community

The North Palm Springs Boy Scout troop will provide a Christmas party for the entire North Palm Springs community in Eaton Hall on the grounds of Tranvée Trailer Ranch Friday at 6:30 p. m.

A musical program will be presented by Mrs. Mae Branch, motion picture entertainment is to be provided by Joe Kelley, vice president of the C. of C. and the honored guest will be Santa Claus of North Pole, who will distribute gifts for the kiddies provided by the Scouts through the courtesy of local merchants and friends.

Gifts for adults will be secured by each grown up attending bringing a small wrapped gift, value about 50 cents, labelled "man" or "woman." A ticket will be given each such donor, which is to be surrendered to Santa in exchange for an adult gift.

Scoutmaster Phil Trepeppi is confined in the Long Beach Veterans' Hospital at present, and arrangements for this event have been handled by the local Scouters such as Joe Kelley, Art Branch, John Molino and Aaron Eaton, and the Explorer Scouts of the local troop, Roger Privatt, Eugene Hill and Jack Hanson senior patrol leader.

Supervisors Set New Meetings; Give Vacations

Because Christmas of 1956 and New Year's Day of 1957 fall on Tuesdays, the usual Monday meetings of the county board of supervisors for the next two weeks will be postponed to Wednesdays, Dec. 26 and Jan. 2.

In order to give county employees advantage of four-day holidays, the court house in Riverside will be closed Mondays and Tuesdays, Dec. 24 and 25, and Jan. 1 and 2.

The last czar of Russia was Nicholas II, who was slain by the Bolsheviks in 1918.

Air Pollution Group Asks Department Clarification

The Riverside County Air Pollution Study Committee recommended to the county board of supervisors this week that they determine whether air pollution is to be a separate department or to be administered under an existing unit such as the health department before taking further steps toward employing an air pollution control engineer.

They said salary range and title of the position should also be determined by the board and the personnel director, and a budget should be set up providing for purchase of equipment, salaries for clerical assistance, payment of transportation mileage, and other items necessary to the running of a department.

OF APPLICATIONS considered by the committee and personnel director at the request of the board, the committee expressed the opinion that that of George Benn who at the time of his application in September was chief air pollution control officer for the City of Minneapolis, Minn., was the only one acceptable. They suggested that he be contacted in an effort to keep his application active until such time as the board makes the recommended determinations.

Benn, who had been with the City of Minneapolis for more than six years, more than five of which were in the air pollution department, and had had considerable engineering experience, was interested in moving to California, and rumor has it that he has already accepted an offer to head the air pollution control department of a county adjoining Riverside County.

THE SUPERVISORS, sitting for the first time as an air pollution control district board, referred the study committee's recommendations to Personnel Director Donald Spencer with a request that he give them consideration and make his own recommendations as to position, title, salary, and departmental operation.

A fourth appointment was made by the board to the new air pollution control committee which is to be advisory to the supervisors as an air pollution control board. The appointee, Mrs. Antoinette Fleschner of Riverside, was suggested by Supervisor Roman Warren.

Scouts Visit DHS, Plan More Visits in Future

The Boy Scouts of America Troop 27 of Los Angeles are guests of Fred Schwartz, Hacienda Riviera from Dec. 17 to 22. Sidney Napp, Scout Master plans a future "jamboree" for his Boy Scouts and Desert Hot Springs Troop 59.

Cabot Yerxa is conducting a tour for the Scouts today through old Indian Pueblo. Special rates were given to the scouts by Aquilina's Restaurant. In the near future Napp plans to introduce 2,000 Crescent Bay Council Boy Scouts to D. H. S. The scouts will attend religious services Sunday in DHS.

Oliver, Creekers Join Forces to Fight Litterbugs

Desert Rat Harry Oliver today served notice on highway litterbugs — their days were numbered by Oliver's alliance with the Snow Creek Improvement Association.

Association President John Van Pelt said today that his group has joined forces with Oliver, who has pressed a solitary, seven-year cleanup campaign. The alliance, Van Pelt said, should lend impetus to the Highway 111 cleanup drive. Van Pelt's organization continued its program Saturday by clearing roadside rubble on another half-mile stretch of road heading towards the Palm Springs depot.

Indio Subdivider Granted Time Limit Extension

On recommendation by Road Commissioner A. C. Keith, County Supervisors this week granted the HLH Development Co. of San Bernardino the 90-day extension it asked last week for completion of the off-site improvements in the Oasis Palms subdivision west of Indio.

The company was given until March 4, 1957 to complete installation of a water system and improvement of streets.

By the middle of the 14th century, convex lenses and spectacles were in general use.

Refugee Relief Funds Sought

Donation of money to the American Red Cross, for Hungarian refugees can be sent to the Palm Springs Chapter of the American Red Cross, in care of Shelby Langford, City Hall, Palm Springs, California, or P.O. Box 938.

Requests for the address where donations can be sent have reached The Desert Sun and local radio stations during the past few days.

Vet Fair Booth Plans Approved

The Veterans Employment Committee of Palo Verde and Coachella Valley has approved plans to erect a permanent stand, promoting the committee's "Hire Veterans" campaign, at the Riverside County Fairgrounds.

Preliminary plans for the building were approved at this week's committee meeting.

Nichols Named Park Co. Head

John Q. Nichols, Palm Springs winter resident, has been named as president of the Yellowstone Park Co., company officials announced today. The new head of the Yellowstone National Park concessioner firm is a bank director in his native Helena, Mont.

ELECTION SUMMARY: GOP, EVALUATE PARTY

Failure of the Republican party to elect a majority of the members of Congress when President Eisenhower was chosen to head the government for a second time shows quite conclusively that the principles of the party were not evident to the voters—or, if they were, they were not acceptable.

Since the President carried his own weight so handily, it might well be assumed that there is little consistency between the principles of his appeal and those of the party generally. Such a situation ought to give pause to not only those Republican candidates who were beaten, but those who were successful—and to everyone interested in the sort of economic freedom which President Eisenhower has expounded. It is not enough to wear the winner's label.

The inner party, if such the Republican party organization might be called, has yet to determine a consistent set of principles upon which it can stand before the voters. It rode to power in 1952 partly on a protest vote and partly on the personal magnetism of a previously non-political hero who happened to hold beliefs in concert with many Republicans.

From the standpoint of political principles, Ike won a non-political contest. In November of 1956 Ike won again, but the Republican party hardly broke even. Except as the inner party provided financial support and organization to the two elections, it had little to do with its own success. That bodes ill for the future of Republicans—both workers and voters. There is a job of rebuilding to be done.

The President has recognized the need for reconstruction on a national scale. This is evidence of political leadership and it is admirable, but it doesn't rebuild a party. No one man can or should build a party, and a party built in the image of one man could hardly be expected to survive long.

What the Republican party needs is a critical appraisal of the source of its voting strength. It needs to determine those principles which it will not compromise, make sure that everyone connected with official duties under the party label understands them and then it needs to work in concert with general appreciation of those principles.

It is a sad commentary on the work of all who call themselves Republican—both party workers and voters—that the U. S. has allowed the phrase "free enterprise" to be so trampled that it is looked upon with skepticism by many voters. A free economy is one of the biggest, most basic weapons in the Republican arsenal but its merits have been sold almost apologetically.

The party might start its appeal by preaching the freedom of economic opportunity which has made all of our nation's prosperity possible, and even provided sufficient strength to absorb the costs of those facets of welfare state which have become fact.

If there is a fundamental difference between the Republican and Democratic parties, it is in the twin areas of personal responsibility and personal freedom. Upon such rocks a lasting political party can be built.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

English Speaking Education

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In a British-run school on the African Gold Coast a group of students, barely out of the jungle, were performing a play by Aristophanes. In a British-run biology examination in the Caribbean, the students were asked to identify pictures of four birds of Old England. In Bridgetown, Barbados, last month, the Negro Prime Minister, Grantley H. Adams, complained to me that the British school system in the West Indies is still something for the British gentleman. As a result, said Mr. Adams:

"Everybody here wants a white-collar job. There aren't enough to go around, and there never will be. People think it's disgraceful to work with their hands. My government must restore in students some sense of the dignity of labor."

THE SELF-RULED nations of the British Commonwealth can do something about it, but it will take time. Meanwhile the United States, quite aside from its Foreign Aid programs, is a world educator. There are approximately 330 American-sponsored colleges in foreign lands. The majority of them, according to the Office of Education, make it a point to take no Federal aid. American churches and American industries are the chief sponsors.

By and large, the American schools have put first things first in education. After all, 65 percent of the world's population is "functionally illiterate," to use the educators' term. Natives who come under American tutelage will be short on Latin and Greek, but long on sanitation, farm methods and civics.

This much is to the good, but it isn't all. If the British have tried to make classics out of these loincloth peoples, we have taught them to be would-be millionaires. Our mistake in judgment seems to have been the more grievous of the two. The British Empire did not dissolve into a group of English-speaking Soviets. But many countries with American-sponsored colleges have gone anti-American and even pro-Communist.

WE HAVE NINE large American-run colleges in India, a country which has been unaccountably cold toward the United States. We have Silliman University and other American-founded education centers in the Philippines. But only last week the Philippine Republic declined to trust us on their air bases.

There were 14 American-run colleges in Peking alone, but China went hell-bent for Communism. We had a large college in Pyongyang, the capital of North Korea, but the people there were corrupted. A postwar American-financed college in Tokyo looks down on a Communist-drifting Japan. And today one chief worry of the State Department is the pro-Communist leadership turned out by the American university at Beirut in Lebanon.

There is, of course, another side of the picture which should be quickly acknowledged and displayed. The American colleges in South Korea have been but works of that fighting Republic. Many American-educated Chinese were executed or driven to Formosa.

DR. COSTI ZURAYK, president of the American university in Beirut, is a scholar and a pro-American gentleman. Another product of Beirut, Habib Kuran, is an American citizen of Arabian extraction and a credit to this country. Besides, it is very difficult to translate foreign politics into American terms. Many whom we call anti-American or pro-Communist are merely doing their best to be anti-imperialist and pro-nationalist.

Yet when the very best case has been made for British and American education abroad, there is much to be desired. Neither of us has taught the world truthfully about life. The "dignity of labor," the idea which Premier Adams must now indoctrinate into his people, is certainly a prime rule for living. It is, perhaps, the most important thing that a people striving toward nationalism and self-sufficiency should learn. And if the British have overdone the Oxford accent, we ourselves have given the phony impression that the rights of man include such things as luxury, loose living and as little work as possible.

When an underprivileged person finds that he can't be a millionaire without working at it, he is apt to become a Communist, or something like it, out of spite.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Unemployment Office 'The Club'

HOLLYWOOD—There's so little employment in the "fifties right now, many of my actor friends are referring to the State Unemployment Insurance Office Hollywood as "The Club." In Hollywood's conservative circles it's called "the usual pre-Christmas slump" but some trade observers say it's more serious than that—e.g., people are staying home to watch TV.

Jimmy McHugh and Joe Fields are readying a revival of their old Broadway smash, "Blackbirds," from which came "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby" and other smash hits, for Las Vegas. . . . Cecil B. DeMille has cancelled his usual Yuletide hearthside party with family and friends. Reason being his health.

Mike Curtiz interviewed 83 dolls for the Helen Morgan role before settling on Ann Blyth. . . . Tony Curtis's favorite story—about the castaway who found a kingly Coke bottle on his pinsize island and hollered, "I've shrunk!"

PAT KNIGHT, Cornel Wilde's ex-wife, and her new husband, Niels Larsen, former Hollywood cosmetics distributor, will produce three independent movies in Madrid in the next 16 months. . . . Between his makeup and wardrobe tests for "Bernardine," Pat Boone studied a tome titled "Understanding Poetry" for his Columbia U thesis. . . . Apropos of nothing, Bea Lillie calls makeup "mucky."

Nick Adams quit giving out stories about his friend, the late Jimmy Dean. Considers it bad taste. . . . So now Nick's giving out stories about his new chum, Elvis Presley! . . . A Chicago reader writes urging Mercedes McCambridge for "The Babe Didrickson Story" at Columbia: "She resembles the Babe, she looks athletic and she's a wonderful actress." Agreed. Are you listenin', Columbia?

I JUST FINISHED reading the galley proofs of Crowell's riotous "Broadway in a Barn" by Rosemary ("Chicken Every Sunday") Taylor and Charlotte Harman, whose husband is Maurice Evans' press agent. Due in the bookstalls in February, "Barn" is a non-fiction account of the Harman's 11 years in summer stock and the funniest, freshest frolic since "Auntie Mame."

A scandal mag killed a story about Rudy Vallee when a pal of Rudy's went to bat. . . . One of the Los Angeles theatre operators showing "Love Me, Tender" tells me he's putting in safety belts to control his teenage customers. . . . Roberta Linn dropped the remote mike from her nightclub act. Too much fuss wrapping all that wire around her pretty static. . . . When he saw an ad for M-G-M's "The Great American Pastime," Groucho Marx phoned me and asked, "Migosh, can they put THAT on film!?"

TODAY HE IS GOING about his business, humming "I Found a Million Dollar Baby in a 5 and 10."

No, it wasn't me. I can't hum. But, with Santa Anita opening next week, I am going to look him up and cultivate him. Rub his back everytime before I go to the track.

Think of it! Two bucks invested in a slip of paper — six grand! Plus some minor change.

WILLIAM FRIEDMAN, Los Angeles auto park owner, unstrung when mishaps hit two members of his family in one week, said to himself:

"I am going to Palm Springs. Sit in the sun. Relax. Restore my shattered nerves."

So he came here and the first morning after a refreshing sleep in a swank local hotel, walked through a glass door.

After he had various cuts on he found his nerves still jangling. But did the right thing. Extended his stay here.

Let's not be too hasty
In what we efface.
Historic landmarks
Are hard to replace.

Progress is a wonderful thing and Palm Springs is now experiencing wonderful progress. It is growing at a record pace and most of us believe that, despite the great growth in the past few months, that it is just the beginning.

But there is danger that in this swift progress, some things will be done which we may regret later.

PALM SPRINGS has its historic landmarks, spots which should be set off as a reminder of the colorful history of the Village. In this work of preserving the past, the Palm Springs Historical Society is doing a great job. They need help, encouragement and sympathy in their work. Already some of the landmarks of the early days are gone, giving way to growth and progress. Such as the old stage coach depot here.

THE DESERT MUSEUM is about to stage a campaign for a larger and more adequate building. Am wondering what they are going to do with that old home of Dr. F. M. White which is on the Welwood Murray Library site which also houses the Museum.

But I guess it is futile to wonder. The Historical Society undoubtedly will see to it that this house, built in part of ties from the old railroad that once traversed this area, is preserved. There are other historic places in the Village which need to be guarded, too.

WHO SAYS CHRISTMAS comes but once a year! There's a Palm Springs man who had himself a Christmas last Sunday. And five Noble Steeds played Santa Claus. He was down Agua Caliente way and was one of eight persons to pick the winning combination in the 5 and 10 program at the race track here.

The combination was 2-7-2-9-2. Deuces must have been wild. The pool was $55,000 and this gentleman, as he is now designated by his bosom friends, picked up $6,193.40.

TODAY HE IS GOING about his business, humming "I Found a Million Dollar Baby in a 5 and 10."

No, it wasn't me. I can't hum. But, with Santa Anita opening next week, I am going to look him up and cultivate him. Rub his back everytime before I go to the track.

Think of it! Two bucks invested in a slip of paper — six grand! Plus some minor change.

INEZ ROBB:

Coddle Them, Wives

It is no secret to say I am mad about men and believe they ought to be here to stay, despite test tubes and the Equal Rights, ladies' division.

The only question is: How long are they here to stay? Are they like the dodo, to be but birds of passage, here today and gone to morrow? Will their inability to adapt to modern life lead them down that lonesome trail with the great auk?

The sad estimate of man's mutability has been confirmed by Dr. Daniel Beltz, a family physician of Los Angeles.

Dr. Beltz has just announced that men constitute the "fragile sex" (those are his words), a trade secret known to every daughter of Eve who ever nursed a man through a head cold. When men are sick, they're the sickest. When boys have the miseries, they're the most.

HOWEVER, before you read further dismiss from your mind all suspicion that this is one of those patronizing articles, full of condescension, that stily points out that men are dopes and that anything he can do, she can do better (except change tires).

The woman is mad who would deny that man is a sturdy oak, nature's prop for the clinging vine. Spiritually and intellectually, man leads the parade. He must be head of the house and boss in his own domain. But let us face the hard fact that physically he is a frail flower, not long for this world unless we women take better care of him.

Although women predominate numerically in the U. S. populace at the moment, 200,000 more men than women have died annually in the past 10 years. Dr. Beltz says. This terrible figure reveals that 2,000,000 men have gone where the woodbine twined and we girls can't get at 'em.

THE FACT THAT the lads, on departure, gallantly leave their worldly wealth to us women is scant consolation. Who, on a January night, was ever able to warm her feet on an annuity?

If a little more coddling, a little more tender, loving care will keep the lads alert until at least their allotted three-score-and-ten, then it is high time we women began pouring it on.

Dr. Beltz says the dangerous age for men is 45 to 60. At this point, apparently, women are just getting their second breath and men are losing their first. In this age bracket, women are preparing to do and dye and men, alas, to die; women are planning to give up potatoes and desserts and men just to give up; women are pushing all their chips on the table and men are cashing theirs in.

SO IT GOES, says science. Obviously it is up to us women to take care of our fragile and respective husbands if we want them, and not an insurance company, to continue to take care of us.

I am going to begin right this minute to take better and more constant care of Mr. R. When he comes home tonight, he will be met at the door by a loving wife with his slippers in her teeth.

Remember when cigarette vending machines first appeared? They were awkward looking machines and sometimes they would work, and at other times you felt like cracking the thing—a majing wide open when it refused to produce either the package of cigarettes or the money.

Well in our midst for the past month or two is a dynamic little man by the name of Arthur Seedman. He is the president of the Rowe company, a name which I associate with the first machines I noticed so many years ago.

BUT THERE'S been a great change since, both in the appearance of the machines and the manner in which they operate. I've seen this Seedman at work placing these machines around Palm Springs. He is a superb salesman. I heard him inform one gentleman that the machine he would get would be so designed as to fit in well with the decor of the room. Imagine a vending machine that will match the decor of an interior?

This vending machine business is really big business today. One can buy anything from hot coffee to silk stockings for milady from these contraptions. So, if you haven't one of these Rowe vending machines in your place of business, it's a two to one bet that Seedman, although he is the president of the organization, will be calling on you. Of course, you must have sufficient people working for you who smoke cigarettes.

IF YOU DON'T know about the Monday night family dinner deal that Jack Casey of the Rossmore inaugurated about two or three weeks ago, you're missing a good bet. He offers three surprise entrees and the food is terrific. In addition, there's the Jack Wood musical combination to entertain you.

Had an interesting conversation with Paul Walsh, electronic engineer for General Electric. He and James Maupin were in Palm Springs conferring with communication experts. Walsh and Maupin recently returned from three years in Bandung.

EARL WILSON:

Groucho as Pretty as Hotel

MIAMI BEACH — I'm staying at the Americana, this year's Florida hotel. I mentioned to Goodman Ace, the Broadway wit who is Perry Como's head writer.

"You mean this week's Florida hotel," observed Goodie sagaciously.

It's true that Florida's putting up palaces about that fast in its population battle with California.

GROUCHO MARX—in Bermuda shorts, straw hat, cigar and blazer-type sports shirt—looked almost as pretty as the hotel. He was doing an Elvis Presley belly-wiggle behind the scenes at NBC's 30th anniversary.

"Everybody can do an Elvis Presley but Elvis Presley," grimaced Groucho. Summoning Johnnie Ray from a nearby cabana, he got him and Melinda Marx, 8, to do the Presley Wiggle together.

"Now I've got to nap," groaned Groucho. "I feel very depressed."

PUFFING A SMALL pipe, Eddie Fisher hovered over Debbie beaming because he's closing a deal to be Coke's good-will ambassador three years at $100,000 a year.

"You're very skinny," I said. The B. W. spoke up: "Naturally, a father always loses a lot of weight after he's had a baby."

"No, you'd better not do 'What's My Line.' " I heard somebody tell Eddie.

They wanted Eddie for a panel appearance. But as CBS refused to let Jackie Gleason do Bob Hope's show, NBC retaliated. It looks like a cold war between CBS Veep Hubbell Robinson and NBC Veep Manie Sacks. Speaking of cold wars, this is a proper and fittin' place to have one.

LEO DUROCHER was off in another cabana hollering like a stuck hog because Laraine Day clipped him at canasta.

"Throw the bum out of the park, Laraine," suggested a spectator, maybe Anne Jeffreys or Bob Sterling or Kitty Kallen or Johnnie Ray. Johnnie learned that "Walkin' in the Rain"—written by four convicts—just won him a gold record.

"It was high time," he said. "I was getting to be the youngest has-been in show business."

It's not polite to mention the weather, but when I asked Harold Gruder, managing director of the Mercury, if he had a heated pool, he replied:

"We don't need heated pools. This is not California!"

But I thought he sort of shivered when he said it.

Java, situated seven degrees below the equator.

Said Walsh: "The weather in Bandung is the kind that most Chambers of Commerce would rave about constantly. We were situated at about 3,000 feet above sea level and at all times the thermometer never went above 72 degrees."

I LOOKED AT the man goggled eyed believing there was a little bit of a twist in that statement. "What about the humidity?" I asked.

"Ah, there you have me," roared Walsh. "It was usually 29 degrees above the thermometer reading and hot at all times."

Walsh and Maupin spent their three years in Bandung in an advisory capacity to the Javanese government in the use of communications.

HAVE YOU BOUGHT your Christmas tree yet? If you haven't, don't forget the Junior Chamber of Commerce boys who have a fine display on the lot next to the Higgins-Ladd Hardware store. The money derived from the sale of these trees will be used for charitable purposes here in Palm Springs.

Ladies, don't throw those nylon torn stockings away. Wrap them up and mail them to the Montebello Japanese Women's Club Juniors, 1216 South Menlo Avenue, Los Angeles. Label the package "Montebello Nylon Drive." These discarded nylon hose will be sent to 5,000 war widows in Japan. These women unravel the discarded hose and make a variety of useful articles, the sale of which provides their chief means of livelihood.

AMAZED AT THE number of Christmas cards received from friends whom I haven't seen for years. Each year they pile up on my desk and every once in a while I find one from some long forgotten friend and it is quite thrilling to know that he or she is still in the land of the living.

Haven't had a weekly call from Sol Feinstein or Al Rose in a long time. What goes, fellows?

WORKMEN YESTERDAY started installing light standards along the east side of Indian Avenue. The poles are completely equipped except for the stringing of wires along the top of the stanchions. Public Works Director Frank Hamerschlag said that the poles should be completed by Christmas, and a celebration is expected when the lights are turned on for the first time. (Desert Sun Photo)

County Hospital Bids to Be Reviewed by Board Jan. 28

Bids for the first units to be constructed under the building plan for the county's General Hospital at Arlington, will be advertised for submission to the county board of supervisors Jan. 28, the board decided this week on recommendation by Dr. Benjamin Goldberg of Palm Springs, consultant to the board on hospital matters.

Specifications and plans, as well as wage scale, for the chronic disease rehabilitation and convalescent nursing unit, were approved by the board of supervisors. Specifications and plans, and wage scales, for a boiler plant and for intern residence are to be adopted.

The English mastiff is believed to be a direct descendant of an ancient Asian dog often depicted on Greek, Assyrian, Babylonian, and Egyptian artifacts, the National Geographic Society says. Some relics show the mastiff was flourishing as early as 300 B. C.

Garden Book Off Press In Time for Christmas

The long awaited Garden Book, published by the Palm Springs Garden Club, will be available to the public this Thursday December 20, at the following places: The Welwood Memorial Library at 100 South Palm Canyon Drive, the Branch Library at 1146 South Palm Canyon Drive; the California Electric Power Company at 168 East Andreas Road; the Palm Springs Book Shop at 120 South Palm Canyon Drive; Neel's Nurseries; Palm Springs Nursery. This book, compiled by Melba Bennett, illustrated with a color photo, on the cover, of a local garden photographed by Fay Brainard, and by clever and humorous line drawings by Melba Bennett, is the result of over 25 years of experience and study by members which are now in the Palm Springs Garden Club; and is filling a long-felt need for a book on gardening for the particular climate and soil conditions in this Desert Area. Up to now, there has been no book which deals with this area in such a complete and detailed fashion; and in publishing this book, the Garden Club is fulfilling a need shown by queries over the years by newcomers to the Village, on just what type of plants will thrive here, and the soil feeding, watering, etc., best to grow them. Old timers, who have gardened here for many years, will also find other varieties of flora which have been successfully raised here, to vary their garden planting.

The book is available for a donation of one dollar. The Palm Springs Garden Club is a non-profit, invitational organization dedicated to city beautification.

Holiday Guests
Mr. and Mrs. Reynard Joseph, of 1401 El Alameda, will have as their houseguests over the Christmas holidays the Morton Josephs of Beverly Hills. They will also hold open house Christmas eve, from five to nine, for their many friends.

Tree in Water
Forest management experts at Michigan State University recommend keeping the butt of the tree in water while it is in the house. Refill the container daily with water as the tree absorbs it. This will help prevent dryness that may mean a fire hazard and also will keep the needles from dropping so fast.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

The sun and the big full moon... are taking turns shining down on the desert... this week before Christmas... gilding the days... and adding lustre to the nights... and every Christmas card that comes from the snowy east... only accentuates our luckiness to live in Palm Springs... Some are yearning for snow on our own mountains... as we usually have this time of year... and some are off to Sun Valley for snow-fun... but most of us will take it just the way it is... Beautiful, sunshiny Palm Springs... gay and colorful... only adds a special fillip to this happy holiday season...

Gretchen and Walth Clark and their young son Walth Jr. are going to Chicago... to spend Christmas with her parents Dr. and Mrs. Rolf Klaus... and to visit the baby's great-grandfather Carl Klaus... who has not seen the baby yet...

Lillian and Franklyn MacCarthy have been to Philadelphia and back... since they were down here for the Churchill party... Franklyn had to go East on business... and Lillian went along just for fun... Hear they were on the party circuit in the City of Brotherly Love...

There will be a pre-holiday style show luncheon at the Ranch Club on Friday... showing clothes for both men and women... Modeling for Chuck Walters Presents will be film star Scott Brady, actors agent Johnny Darrow, and Griff Watkin, a new star in the MGM firmament...

Women's fashions... including smart separates from Don Loper... will be from Gladys... one of Palm Canyon Drive's newest and smartest shop... and from Faye-Renee...

Least surprised person at his own surprise birthday party Monday night... was Milt Hicks... and, happiest about the whole thing, was little Miss Theresa, who is four years old... Bob Hope Takes Off For Alaska

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer HOLLYWOOD — Bob Hope, Hollywood's traveling Santa Claus, takes off for Alaska today for his 15th year of entertaining the GIs at Christmas time—but this time he'll make it home Christmas Day. Only five times since 1941 has the ski-nosed comic been able to return to his own tinsel and holly at home for December 25, but he hopes to fly home from the Far North in time for the holiday this year.

"Unless the weather snows us in," he added as he shook the mothballs out of his parka at his San Fernando Valley mansion. "But I always get the Christmas spirit wherever I go. The boys put up trees for us. Santa Clauses greet us, there are Christmas carols. I always get a tremendous kick out of these trips. I always go at Christmas time because that is when the hospitals and camps want you to be there."

The Hope household was in a minor turmoil today as Hope planned for his troupe of 200 to make the annual excursion, an event that is becoming an expected treat for servicemen. Last year he went to Greenland to thaw out the boys with Anita Ekberg. He wound up with a head injury from doing a pratfall.

This season his back "still hurts me from last year," but he'll be hopping over furniture with baseballer Mickey Mantle in a skit. The Hope Christmas present for the boys in uniform doesn't include a sexy sweater girl this trip, but the more wholesome types—Peggy King, Ginger Rogers, and Carol "Miss Universe" Morris. He's even taking along a college choir

AL ANTHONY'S opening night performance at La Paz Spur and Sable Room Friday night, found Dr. and Mrs. William McBride on hand to welcome him. Dr. McBride, who has a small organ in his new Deep Well home and has taken lessons from Al Anthony (he's on the right). As the McBrides live so close to LaPaz they dine in Spur and Sable Room many evenings and join friends in enjoying the entertainment there. (Pospesil Photo)

Welcome Return of Al Anthony

Highlighting the weekend at La Paz was the formal dinner party given in the Spur and Sable Room to mark the return of Al Anthony, who will play nightly in the smart supper club.

Ralph Wilcox Taylor, hosted a dinner to welcome the popular entertainer back to Palm Springs. He has been in Hollywood making an album of 12 records and the master recordings were brought to La Paz for a preview hearing by the guests.

Guests assembled at prettily decorated tables, centered with long, low bouquets of bougainvillea and with red tapers burning in silver candelabra.

The festive party was enjoyed by the guests, many of whom came from Los Angeles for the occasion. They included Mr. and Mrs. Chris Lansdowne of Pasadena, who were Taylor's houseguests, Dr. and Mrs. William McBride, Mrs. Noble Banks, Miss Marguerite Casey, Dorothy Scheib, Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Raksin (he is Anthony's conductor), Beth Scott, Larry Finley, Robert De Phillips, Dr. Alton Horton and Franklyn McManus.

After Al Anthony introduced his newly recorded album, which was received with great enthusiasm, he played and sang a number of request selections, and several of the guests entertained. Dr. McBride, also a lover of organ music, played some of his favorite melodies. A quartet, including Taylor, McManus, Finley and Raksin sang some Irish tunes to wind up the pleasant evening.

Hope and the crew will tour seven Air Force bases in the freezing weather, and then film his December 28 NBC television show at Anchorage.

In his home the comedian has an amazing collection of mementos of previous Christmas trips around the globe. He treasures a dog-sled carved out of ivory from his 1942 trip to Alaska. Last year the GIs gave him a walrus tusk inscribed with their thanks.

On another table in his office is a huge ashtray given him by GIs in Germany on another junket. "Once a paralyzed boy in a hospital gave me a wallet with my face outlined on it," he said.

Amblers Hosts at Cocktails

More than 90 guests attended the cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Ambler at 1027 San Lucas Road, on Saturday evening, before going on to the Jaycee party at the Rossmore.

The hors d'oeuvre table was a beautiful picture, with its centerpiece, a robust Santa Claus perched atop a gift laden sleigh. Surrounding it were huge platters of Swedish meatballs, wrapped frankfurters, smoked oysters, anchovies and canapes.

Poinsettia plants, Santa Clauses, everywhere, a glided cornucopia filled with gaily-colored Christmas balls and gilded smoke tree branches, over the fireplace, lent a festive air to this happy occasion.

Among the many guests who attended and passed through the front door wrapped like a Christmas package in silver foil and gay decorations, were the Bill Fosters, Maurice Smiths, Warren Strehbs and son Freddie and daughter Wendy. Dr. and Mrs. Chet Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Walter, Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Huffman, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Backstrom.

Also the Joe Eichers, Herb Esbitts, Joe Woods, Bill Broinstens, the Ottis Cutrights (he is state president from San Bernardino), Nick Mutascios, Pat Mutascios, Tom Hayes, Rick Harrison, Don Wexlers, Fritz Blotters, Bob Morrisons, Bill Wilsons, Hank Clearys, Gene Bishops, Bob Manchells, Terry Roaches, Jake Clemens, Ted McKinney and many more.

Garden Club Christmas Program

The December meeting of the Palm Springs Garden Club was held on Saturday in the garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yesley. Harry Yesley is president of the club. Before the program and business meeting, a Christmas dessert was served by Mrs. Yesley and co-hostesses Mrs. Jerry Bunker and Mrs. Donald Lockett.

The program, presented by Father Blondin of the Saint Paul's In The Desert Church, a member of the Garden Club was a devotional and inspirational one in keeping with the real Spirit of Christmas.

Gifts were exchanged by the membership, emceed by Glenn Watson acting as Santa Claus. Although limited to an expenditure of 25 cents on each gift, an amazing variety of clever items were unwrapped, running the gamut of garden seeds to implements, as well as some non-gardening gifts.

The eagerly awaited date of release of the Garden book, published by the Garden Club, was announced, at the business session, as Thursday December 20; and plans were laid for its distribution, by the members. The details of where to obtain this book appear elsewhere in the Desert Sun.

How to Keep a Live Christmas Tree

Christmas trees will become year-round pets if purchased alive for planting after the holidays.

But certain varieties, such as Norway spruce, Scotch pine and Douglas fir will grow to proportions that may make them undesirable as foundation plantings, according to Davey tree experts.

Smith Returns From Europe

Arthur Smith, formerly with The Desert Sun, has arrived in the Village after spending five months in Europe visiting most of the European countries.

Arriving in Montreal he took the last passenger boat leaving Germany for Canada for the 1956 season, as the St. Lawrence river into Montreal freezes over in the winter. He drove over 4,000 miles in the wind, sleet, snow and rain in order to spend Christmas in Palm Springs.

New Girl Scout Officers Named For Coming Year

New officers of the Girl Scouts were announced at the Girl Scout Christmas Party Saturday, by Skee Howeth, publicity committee chairman.

The new officers for 1957 are: Marjorie Hamerschlag, president; Frances Sheppard, vice president; Vera Tackett, recording secretary; Imogene Hilton, corresponding secretary, and Madeline Hodgen, treasurer.

Committee chairman are: Eloise Dumphy, training; Skee Howeth, publicity; Hazel Beebe, Girl Scout House; Madelyn Miller, membership and nominations; Marge Moran, camp; and Kay Heise, "Juliette Lowe" Fund.

At the meeting, the new officers discussed various phases of Scout House activities, and Girl Scout Leaders displayed Christmas crafts which had been made by the different troops.

New Orchard Heater Made Subject to County Controls

A new orchard heater known as the Diesel Internal Exchange orchard heater may be used in Riverside County, but only as an undesignated heater and with maximum hole setting of one hole, one inch in diameter or equivalent, the county supervisors have agreed. An amendment to the county orchard heater control ordinance to this effect was adopted Monday on recommendation by Robert M. Howie, county agricultural commissioner.

County Seeks to Fill Vacancies

Riverside County is seeking applicants to fill vacancies at General Hospital and the District Attorney's office in Riverside.

General Hospital needs a dietitian, holding a bachelor of science degree in dietetics and nutrition and who has at least four years' experience. Salary range is from $360 to $430 a month.

The vacancy in the district attorney's office, for a deputy grade II, calls for active membership in the California Bar and at least three years experience. Salary ranges from $471 to $565 a month.

Further information is available at the office of the personnel director at the county courthouse in Riverside.

Desert Center Wrecking Yard Permit Granted

A permit for establishment and operation of an automobile wrecking and junk yard just off Highway 60 eight miles east of Desert Center has been granted by the county board of supervisors, as recommended by the county planning commission, to the Ironwood Sales & Service, Inc. of which Charles R. Carr of Desert Center is president.

The yard is to be set back 1,000 feet from the highway and to be screened from the view of passersby with a hedge of oleanders, tamarisk, or other "suitable" hedge, or by an eight-foot corrugated iron fence.

The permit will terminate Jan. 1, 1962.

Badgers Go First Class

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "Waitress" now is a term of the past in Wisconsin, according to the Wisconsin Restaurant Association which says "hostess" is the right word. The woman formerly known as the hostess is now known as the "hostess supervisor." And to make the name-changing complete, bus boys are now "sanitarians."

Palm Desert

By GRECHEN CHEESEMAN

A holiday wedding of importance will take place Sunday evening, Dec. 23, at 7:30 in the Palm Desert Community Church, when Karen Louise Andrews and Robert Bergquist will be united in marriage. The Rev. Warren McClain will officiate.

Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Win Andrews and Robert's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Erick Bergquist. Both families are from Olympia, Wash., but Palm Desert is now their home.

A reception will be held in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Win Andrews. Mr. and Mrs. H. Bert Hutchinson of Olympia, grandparents of the bride, have arrived for this occasion.

Mrs. Edgar Sergeant is spending a few days in San Diego with her mother, Mrs. Lucy Allabough, and her sister, Mrs. P. M. Crosier.

The House of Riley housed a group of northern guests during the last week. Warren Steves of St. Helena and San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. William Rennie, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goldman of Oakland and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Van Naves of Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgerald, who own and operate the House of Riley, lived in Oakland for years.

Mrs. E. Reichert departs this week for New York City to spend the holidays with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rogers. Miss Virginia Ray, Mrs. Reichert's youngest daughter who attends the University of New Mexico, will also meet her mother in the east. Mrs. Rogers (Nancy Ray) is expecting a "blessed event" and hopes it will be a Christmas bundle.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ernest spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Saplinger. Mr. Earnest is Mrs. Saplinger's son.

The Palm Desert Women's Club

will start the holiday social events with their annual Christmas party, held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Bear. Dessert will be served from one to two, then a short business meeting and Lou Kuehner, social and recreational director of Shadow Mountain Club, will speak on the subject, "What Christmas Means to Children". This will be followed by the singing of Christmas carols.

The "Welcome Home" party given for the Todds at Shadow Mountain Club Saturday night found the Shadow Room crowded with members and their guests. Even though the hours are crowded with holiday errands, everyone was present to greet these talented musicians.

One interesting bit was the dancing of "La Soaviene" or "Point your pretty toe" by six couples who have been present every year the Todds have been at the Club: Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Bear, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Caplinger and Ted Smith who danced with Mrs. Jim Ketchersid.

In glancing over the dinner guests and dancers, there were the Will Hipples, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Ives, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Arscott, the Guy Sensibas, Claude Hickmans, the Milton Haslers, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Buccino, the A. H. Coffins, the Henry Cheesmans, Forrest Bowers, Edgar Sergeants, the Howard MacAloneys with a large party, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Merryman.

Also the Everett Johnstons, Richard Hanouseks with a party, Dr. and Mrs. Crawford Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Rene de Varanne, the Ralph Tillmans with the Russ Nicols and others in their party, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Henderson, the F. C. Goodwins with a large party, Mrs. Henry Passow with the Ralph Dietz and many, many more.

High School Highlights

By DIXIE VOGELS

On Monday some of the High School Choir joined in the Civic Choir in the presentation of the Messiah at Cahulla School.

Peg Schuler and Mike Clark were high school soloists.

This Saturday night, the G. A. A. and Letterman dance was presented at the Palm Springs Playhouse. This semi-formal dance is an annual affair with decorations to fit the Christmas season.

A new feature around campus these days are the weekly junior class sock hops, held in the gym every noon hour. All the students are invited to go and enjoy supervised music for a dime every Thursday noon. Those were instigated to replace the income for the Juniors from the now extinct concession stand, which had to stop selling candy by the order from the Board of Education.

THERE IS STILL a lot of commotion around our campus these days as the construction of the new high school additions is going on. To date, the buildings are two and one half weeks behind schedule. The Administration Building will not be finished by February but the new Science wing will be.

The Cafeteria staff announced this week that there will be an improvement next year in the kitchen department of our cafeteria, which will truly be a welcome "step forward." As it stands now, the cafeteria plight consists of cramped conditions, not enough storage space, and slow preparation of food which is the fault of the lack of enough modern equipment.

THERE ARE GOING to be some real nice Christmas presents exchanged around the high school this Christmas season. Sweater sets for steadies are the most popular choice. Old favorites are records, soap sets, perfume, Ivy League shirts, wallets and shave kits are some of the nicer "I wish she'd give me" presents.

And in closing, there is a new note for the boy who has everything—a gunny sack to put it in! Well, that's 30 by Dixie!

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — The coaches in the East-West Game to be played at Kezar Stadium on Dec. 29 are a light-hearted lot — because win or lose the alumni is so appreciative.

Most alumni take a dim view of defeat and quite often it means the axe for the pigskin pilot involved. But in this one, the "alumni" is composed of crippled children in various Shrine hospitals and the outcome of the game is not as important as the cause.

So the coaches head into this one without the usual palpitation and their ease is reflected in their light-hearted bantering.

ONE OF THE TOP jokes among the coaching crew which includes Terry Brennan of Notre Dame, Buck Shaw of the Air Force Academy, Rip Engle of Penn State and Blanton Collier of Kentucky is bulky Jack Curtice of Utah. Curtice keeps 'em in stitches, a novelty for the coaches. Like when he told them that he was from Kentucky and had been born in a log cabin slightly on the shabby side. "We were too poor to paint and too proud to whitewash," Curtice gagged.

Curtice gets a lot of mileage out of the story of "the fastest starting back in Texas."

The back was always drawing penalties for being in motion so Curtice complained to the official in one game and told him to keep his eye on the boy "because he starts so fast you just think he's in motion."

On the next play, the penalty whistle blew again.

"He wasn't in motion," Curtice screamed.

"No, it wasn't for that," the official said. "This penalty is against the rest of the team for delaying the game."

CURTICE USES what he calls a "smorgasbord offense" — "a little bit of everything." And in no time at all his gags have the rest of the coaches laughing hilariously as they forget their recent coaching woes.

They can even laugh at themselves, for, as Collier explains, "You just can't win in this business."

"My first year at Kentucky," the square-cut coach recalled, "we beat Tennessee at their place — something which rarely happens — and on the train home one happy alumnus called me over and shook hands."

THE OLD GRAD looked him squarely in the eye and said: "Coach, you did a great job today and I'm for you."

Then he paused and added grimly: "But if they beat you next year, I'm against you."

Those problems are absent in the East-West Game, where a bunch of young men run so that kids can walk. And it's reflected in the easy-going attitude of the only football coaches in the country who face a game without misty giving. This time they can't lose.

Two Foursomes Tie With 57s in O'Donnell Match

Two foursomes, each banging best ball cards of 1957 finished in a dead heat in the weekly Choose-Up matches at O'Donnell Golf Club Tue.

Dale Andreason, H. H. Foster, Earle Strobe and Ralph Peterson comprised one of the winning teams and on the other were J. H. Adamson, Glenn Thomas, Dick Ranspot and Chase Garfield.

Other cards turned in for the day's play were:

58 — Dr. C. H. Baldwin, Leo Owens, Robert Ross, Harold Cudney.

59 — Rod Funseth, Howard Lilly, R. H. Fleet, Fred Nicholson.

59 — Harold Heathman, Eddie Meyerson, W. J. Baldwin, J. R. Townsend.

Palm Springs High School Indian Varsity racked up its third straight win Tuesday night at Riverside when they defeated the Ramona High School Rams 45-40 in a hard-fought battle.

Sam Jones, Curtis Roberts and Eddie Tarr paced the Redmen in their win. Between them they tallied 36 points of the 45 put into the books by the locals.

RAMONA EARNED a split with the Indians when their B team downed the local Papoose outfit 44 to 27.

Jones accounted for 14 points to take high game honors. Roberts and Tarr bucketed 11 each.

The Indians pulled into an early lead and were ahead 8 to 5 at the end of the first period and 21 to 11 at the half.

In the third period the Rams started moving and the Indians held a close 33-28 lead when the final period started.

THE INDIANS maintained their five-point lead in the last quarter which was a hard-fought period all of the way.

Tickets for Rose Bowl Go Fast

PASADENA, (AP) — Football enthusiasts got up early today and stood in line for several hours in an attempt to buy 3,500 tickets for the 1957 Rose Bowl game.

Ticket seekers gathered before dawn and by the time that 3,500 seats went on public sale at the stadium on a first-come basis the line extended far out in the bowl's vast parking lot.

The allotment of 3,500 seats is all that is placed on public sale of the 100,809 tickets for the game. The main share of the tickets goes to the two conferences whose teams play in the classic.

The public sale opened at 7:30 a.m. and the tickets were sold out in less than an hour.

Fullmer Rounds Into Shove for Title Go

GROSSINGER, N.Y., (AP) — Midweight challenger Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, rapidly is rounding into shape for his title fight with Champion Ray Sugar Robinson on Jan. 2. The husky Fullmer worked two rounds each with Bobby Gomez and Ray Dietrick Tuesday and is scheduled for more work today.

Bears Favorites

NEW YORK, (AP) — In the opening line of odds for the National Football League championship game between the Chicago Bears and the New York Giants, the Bears were installed three and one-half point favorites. The game will be played Dec. 30 at Yankee Stadium.

Prothro Tops UP Poll

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tommy Prothro, member of a famous athletic family and rated one of the finest young coaches in the land, today was named the United Press West Coast football coach of the year.

Prothro led his Oregon State Beavers into the Pacific Coast Conference championship and a Rose Bowl berth in his second year as the leader of a team that had won that honor once before in history.

YOUNG TOMMY, son of old "Doc" Prothro, one-time manager of the Philadelphia Phillies baseball club, took over the helm of the Beaver club last year. Since World War II, starting in 1945, Oregon State had won only 41 games while losing 50, tying 5.

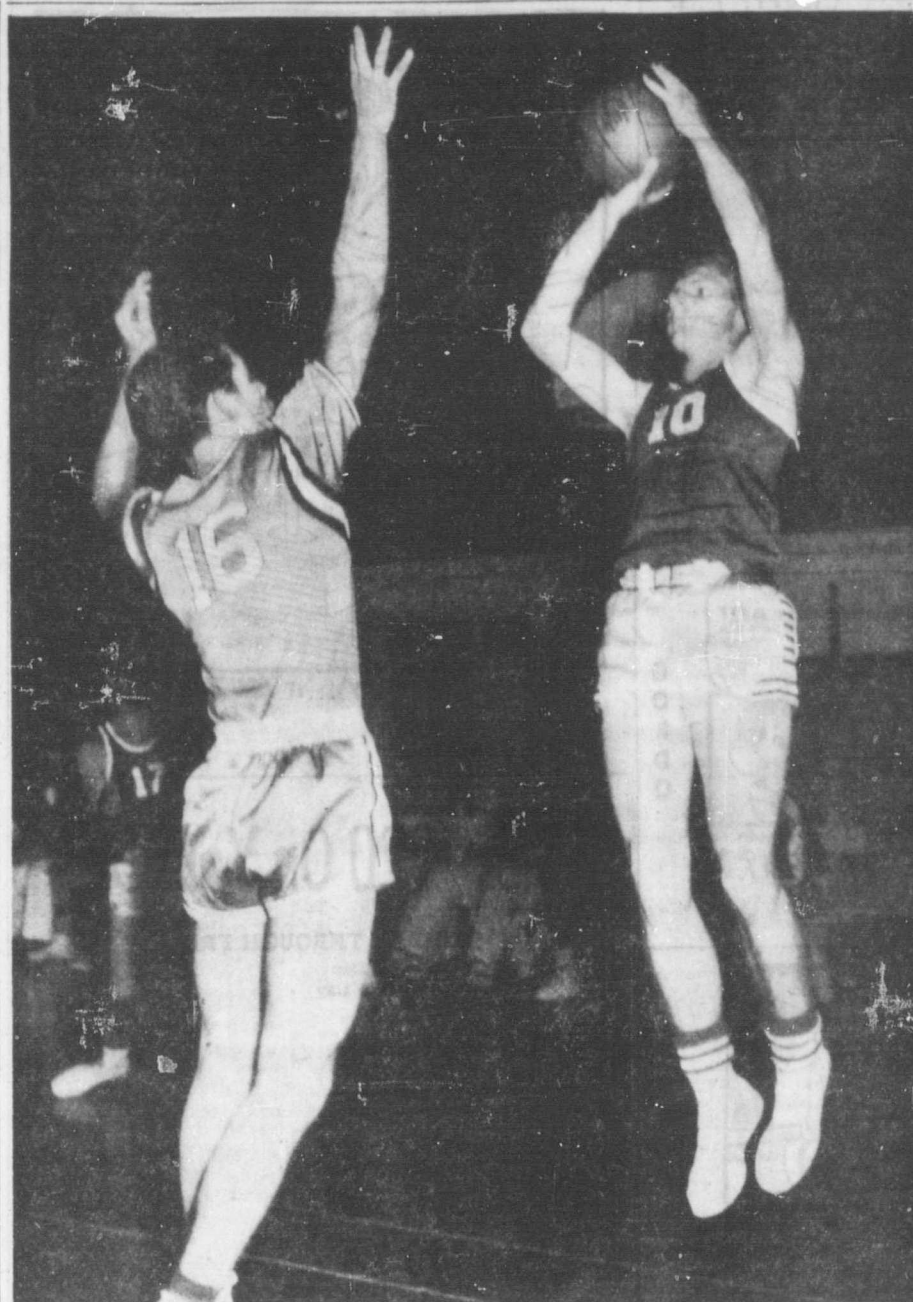

But in two years, Prothro's clubs have won 13, lost five and tied only one.

"Tommy has a great psychological approach to the game of football," says one of his staff members. "He can get more out of the talent available than any man I ever met."

"I knew they could play good football at Oregon State," says Tommy.

PROTHRO PROBABLY is as surprised as anyone to find himself in the Rose Bowl this year. "We have a lot of sophomores on this team and we probably won't win as many games as we did last year," Tommy told United Press last summer. "But the team will be stronger."

And that's the way it worked out. The Beavers had a man-killing schedule—starting out with three road games against Missouri, Southern California and Iowa. They dropped two of these three—then came back to win all the rest with the exception of a tie in the final game against Oregon.

SAM JONES, member of last year's Palm Springs High County League champions, sparked the Indians to a 45-40 victory over Ramona High last night. Jones (10) was high man. Here he is scoring two of his 14 points. The Ramona player (16) is diano to a 45-40 victory over Ramona High last night. Jim Doolson. (Desert Sun Photo by Chuck Grone.)

Track Betting Sets Record During Year

boomed to new heights while the over-all attendance record was shattered in thoroughbred racing during 1956, a United Press survey revealed today.

In the 24 states where betting at race tracks is legal, a new record high of 2,213,843,691 was sent through the pari-mutuel machines by 29,332,601 persons, the greatest number ever to watch the horses run.

The total represented an increase of 7.1 percent in betting and 3.2 percent in attendance over the 1955 totals of $2,066,102,588 and 28,402,452. There were 3.175 racing days this year compared with 3.058 in 1955, an increase of 3.8 percent.

There were only two exceptions to the general increase with Rhode Island and West Virginia reporting lesser betting totals than they had a year ago.

STENGEL, TEBBETTS TOP MANAGERS IN MAJORS

NEW YORK (UP)—Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Birdie Tebbetts of the Redlegs, a pair of pilots from entirely different schools, were named the major leagues' managers of the year today by the United Press.

Both the 67-year-old Stengel, winner of his sixth world championship this year, and the 45-year-old Tebbetts, who led Cincinnati to a surprisingly strong third place finish in the National League, won the titles by overwhelming margins.

Stengel collected 33 votes from baseball writers throughout the eight American League cities to wind up with a comfortable margin over runner Paul Richards, the Baltimore manager who was named on five ballots.

Tebbetts gathered 43 votes and had an even greater margin than Stengel. The Redlegs' manager's closest competitor was Walt Alston, who led the Brooklyn Dodgers to the National League pennant. Alston received three votes.

Although Tebbetts is a great admirer of Stengel, he employs different managerial methods.

Regarded more as "one of the boys" by Cincinnati players than Stengel is among the Yankees, Tebbetts admits he uses psychology to a great extent in handling his men and also has a tendency to use his starting and relief pitchers interchangeably.

Stengel, on the other hand does not bother too much with psychology. A lineup-juggler of the first order, Casey is a firm believer in the platoon system.

Bowl Rivals in Stiff Drills for Clash January 1

SANTA MONICA, (AP) — Oregon State today went through its first drill at Santa Monica City College field, following the team's arrival here Tuesday night from Corvallis for the Rose Bowl game.

Coach Tommy Prothro set up headquarters for his 40-man squad at the swank Miramar Hotel and scheduled twice a day workouts beginning Thursday. He gave notice that all workouts would be open to the press.

Following this morning's light drill both the Oregon State and the Iowa teams toured Disneyland in nearby Anaheim.

Iowans, Oregon Tour Disneyland

PASADENA, (AP) — The University of Iowa held a closed drill today and then met their Rose Bowl opponents, Oregon State, for a tour of Disneyland in nearby Anaheim.

Coach Forest Evashevski gave his team time off in the afternoon to tour the amusement park. He said double drill sessions would be resumed Thursday.

Seixas Says He's in Shape For Cup Clash

Everything Okay Says U. S. Hope in Challenge Round

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — The United States Davis Cup tennis hopes rest today on a well shouldered and a swelled head.

The shoulder is the one which recently bothered U.S. ace Vic Seixas but which he now says is fully recovered. The head is Australian star Lew Hoad's—and Aussie critics say it's become too big to wear any crown.

Seixas, America's chief hope in the Dec. 26-27-28 challenge round, reported his ailing right shoulder is healed and happily advised non-playing U.S. Captain Billy Talbot, "everything's okay now." The 33-year-old Philadelphian gave Billy the glad tidings after the U.S. team's first workout on the Memorial Drive Courts where the challenge round will be played.

SEIXAS, WHO THINKS the ailment was the "muscular result of nervous tension I feel before important matches," said he will be "at my best" when he meets Hoad or Ken Rosewall in the opening singles match, Dec. 26.

"I don't really need to worry much about my strokes or additional practice. All I need is to feel relaxed here," said Seixas, pointing to his head. "That's the big thing."

U.S. observers aren't the least bit worried about Seixas' head but what may or may not be going on inside Hoad's has the Australians in a tizzy.

HOAD, THE NO. 1 amateur exponent of power tennis, hasn't won a major Australian tournament this winter and Aussie experts are warning that he's about to go into one of his temperamental moods. The Australians believe it was just such a mood that cost them the Davis Cup in 1954.

Harry Hopman, manager of the Australian team, hasn't yet joined in the criticism of Hoad, however, leading some experts to believe the newspapers "are making a mountain out of a peanut."

YOU'D HARDLY recognize this guy without the Yankee uniform and the catching equipment but it's Yogi Berra, golfing at Pinehurst, N. C., while on vacation. (International)

Darrell Royal Named Coach For Texas U.

AUSTIN, Tex., (AP) — Young Darrell Royal, flashy quarterback of the national champion 1949 Oklahoma Sooners, Tuesday was named head coach of the University of Texas.

Royal, who leaves the University of Washington for a five-year contract at an undisclosed salary, inherits a Longhorn team that won one game and lost nine this past season.

Royal, 32-year-old Hollis, Okla., native, will officially succeed Ed Price Jan. 1. Price, who served six years, five of those with the best record in the Southwest conference at an annual salary of $12,500, resigned during the season after a wave of effigy hangings.

The university departed from its announced intentions of naming a combination head coach and athletic director. Ed Ollie, business manager of athletics, was named athletic director to succeed Dana X. Bible who retires to modified service next September.

Swaps Again Hits Peak in Turf Poll

BALTIMORE, (AP) — Swaps was picked as the "horse of the year" today in the annual poll of sports writers and broadcasters conducted by the Turf and Sports Digest.

It was the third championship honor bestowed on the California colt. He previously was hailed as "American champion" by the thoroughbred Racing Association and was named "horse of the year" by Triangle Publications.

SOONERS AGAIN NAMED BEST U.S. GRID TEAM

NEW YORK, (AP) — Several facts which had been known for some time by Oklahoma's battered 1956 football victims became official today when the NCAA announced the Sooners outgained and outscored all other major colleges for the second straight year.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's team became the first in modern times to lead in yardage and points two consecutive years. The 1956 Sooners left the other major schools far behind while compiling an unprecedented combination of 481.7 yards a game, including a record 391 by rushing and 46.6 points per start.

Oklahoma averaged 107.5 rushing yards per game more than runner Virginia Tech, which averaged 233.5 on the ground. The only other major schools which ever averaged more than 350 yards by rushing were the 1945 Army team 359.8 and the 1948 Texass Mines team 378.3.

Oklahoma's total yardage per game also is the most any team ever averaged against major opposition. The 466 points scored by Oklahoma in 10 games is the second highest total collected since the 1920 California team made 482.

Army scored 504 in 1944.

Bears Bow to Kansas After Tough Battle

Berkley Fans Say Chamberlain Not in Russell's Class

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — Basketball fans hereabouts decided today Wilt The Stilt Chamberlain is a mighty fine player, but one who has a long way to go to match the likes of all American Bill Russell.

This was the verdict after Tuesday night's game between Kansas University and California at Berkeley. The Jayhawks won, 66-56, and they had to work for their victory.

THE STILT accounted for 23 points — baskets and seven free throws. It was his poorest showing to date and well below the average of 39.5 that he brought into the game.

The seven-foot Stilt towered over California's 6-7 Duane Asplund and 6-6 Don McIntosh, both of whom two-timed him for what was possibly the worst night of his career.

What got the crowd of 7500 in a frenzy was California's performance in the first half.

With Cal's Earl Robinson leading the way in scoring and floor play, Pete Newell's charges came to the half atop a 33-25 score. But Robinson fouled out after nearly eight minutes of the second half and the Jayhawks took charge of the game after that.

ELSEWHERE ON the Pacific Coast, center Elgin Baylor effectively controlled the backboards to lead Seattle University to an 83-50 victory over College of the Pacific at Seattle.

IN ANOTHER intersectional game, Missouri opened a four-game invasion of the Far West with a 71-41 win over Oregon State.

At Eugene, substitute guard Bob Higgins' driving lay-up with seven seconds remaining in the game gave Rice a 61-59 win over Oregon after the teams had battled nlp and tuck throughout.

Elsewhere, Southern Oregon, sparked by a 23-point performance from Bill Hollingsworth, rolled to a 76-56 win over Chico state; Gonzaga beat Washington State, 62-60; and Whittier downed Chapman, 62-52.

Robinson Snaps Back at Fullmer

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y., (AP) — Middleweight champion Ray Sugar Robinson, in training for his Jan. 2 title defense against Gene Fullmer, was annoyed today at remarks the challenger has been making in interviews. "Fullmer is the bravest challenger I ever have heard on radio and television," Robinson said. "I'd like to remind him titles are won in the ring and not in interviews."
